Doug & Nancy Beckett Peachy Canyon Winery

When Doug and Nancy Beckett, a couple of school teachers looking for a better life, moved to Paso Robles in 1982 with their two sons, Joshua and Jacob, they never knew the life they would lead. Today, Peachy Canyon Winery is distributed in 49 states and select international destinations. The winery is still headed by founding vintners Doug and Nancy, as well as the families second generation. After years away from home, both Josh and Jake returned to Paso Robles and Peachy Canyon to work for the family business.

Michael & Linda McCay McCay Cellars

Michael attended the University of Santa Barbara to obtain a degree in marine biology...huh, sometimes life is funny...soon figuring out that he did not have a calling to the ocean. Michael's passion for vineyards and winemaking continued to grow and after making wine on many different levels and with several different Winemakers his family and friends encouraged Michael to start his own label.

"Our goal is simple...to make wine with a sense of presence and character that expresses the trueness of the vineyard".
